WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF THE RMA PROGRAM?

Multidisciplinary approach to retirement planning—The RMA program maps a complete framework of the retirement planning universe. By evaluating several schools of thought, particularly on retirement allocation strategies and risk management techniques, advisors can adopt all best-practices.

Better understand your clients'

retirement mindset—Using a combination of behavioral finance, industry research, and practitioner experience, the RMA program helps advisors better understand their clients' mindset at retirement, as they shift from accumulating and investing assets to funding retirement income. The program was also developed and customized entirely from the client's perspective, helping to improve client communication and trust.

Strategies for custom risk assessment and unbiased solutions—The RMA program is truly product-neutral, with unbiased solutions for every type of client. This client-centered, outcomes-based approach is at the heart of the program, first doing what is best for the client, no matter the product or the payout.

Practical tools and techniques to use in your practice—Starting with the Procedural Prudence Map, the RMA program provides practical tools that help advisors map a decision-making process that complies with fiduciary best practices. Using the Client Diagnostic Kit helps set the stage for initial client data gathering while the RMA Toolbox compiles the various strategies into actionable client product recommendations.

RMA is considered a post-CFP, post-CIMA, post-CPWA designation when it comes to retirement planning expertise. While each of these designations addresses some elements of retirement planning, the RMA is retirement income-specific, with an emphasis on advising your clients through the realities of changing from an accumulation mindset to a decumulation mindset.
