

One Health: Food and Agriculture Innovation

Contact: Virginia Mulligan, PhD
Program Director, Food and Agriculture Innovation
virginia.mulligan@albertainnovates.ca

2026-27

One Health: Food and Agriculture Innovation

- Health, Agriculture & Life Sciences are essential pillars of Alberta's innovation ecosystem. Through its diverse partnerships, Alberta Innovates is supporting groundbreaking work in sustainable agriculture.
- Alberta is at the forefront of developing sustainable agricultural technologies and integrating encompassing approaches to address environmental challenges, emerging diseases, and ecosystem health.

One Health: Food and Agriculture Innovation

Research Priorities

- Scaling Alberta-based innovations in life sciences, sustainable agriculture, and health to improve well-being, food security, and bioeconomy competitiveness.
- Our efforts focus on the following three areas:
 - One Health Approach
 - Sustainable Agriculture
 - Food Innovation

Connect with us to explore how your project idea may align with our priorities.

