

At Nature Masterminds®, your purchases help fund the Caroline Kramer Faust Foundation, supporting impactful nature and education-focused content, projects and initiatives. Because the resources are delivered electronically, they can't be returned after they have been downloaded or accessed. Consequently, all sales on Nature Masterminds.org are considered final and nonrefundable.

However, we understand that there are circumstances that may warrant a refund, and we may offer refunds in a few limited circumstances. If you have never downloaded or digitally accessed the resource, or if your purchase falls into one of the following exceptions listed below, you may be eligible for a refund:

- 1. Compromised Resource File: A file is damaged or is missing content.*
- 2. Misrepresentation: A description misrepresents what is contained in the resource. (Requests are subject to review.)*
- 3. Technical Limitations: You are unable to access a resource because the technical requirements in your area do not support accessing our materials.*
- 4. Duplicate Purchase: You purchase the same resource twice in one account.*
- 5. File Access Status: You purchased a resource but never downloaded or accessed the files and your needs have changed.*

Refund requests must be submitted within 30 days of your purchase and are granted on a case-by-case basis. If your purchase falls into one of these categories, you can submit a refund request here. Please be sure to include in your request: the resource name and your concerns, along with any specific examples or details you might have. Screenshots are encouraged. We'll do our best to make it right!
