Renewal Overview

The AVIXA Board of Governors established an independent AVIXA Certification Committee (referred to as the “AVIXA Certification Committee”) to provide oversight for development and administration of credible Certified Technology Specialist certifications (CTS, CTS-D, and CTS-I), and to ensure the credentials meet high standards of ethical and professional practice for the audiovisual industry that assures the proficiency and competency of audiovisual professionals. Continuing education is an important component in demonstrating a personal and public commitment to maintaining competency within a professional certification program. The AVIXA Certification Committee renewal program for the CTS certification program reflects that commitment and as such, meets the ISO/IEC/17024 accreditation requirements as administered in the United States by the ANSI National Accreditation Board (ANAB).

All levels of CTS certifications are awarded for a period of three (3) years. Individuals wishing to maintain their CTS, CTS-D and/or CTS-I designations must meet the renewal requirements of the AVIXA Certification Committee in order to maintain their certification(s).

The renewal process provides certified audiovisual specialists the opportunity to demonstrate their ongoing efforts to enhance the knowledge, skills, and abilities required to perform their jobs in the field. The program facilitates continued competence through participation in a variety of learning experiences, each of which may be linked to the current competency requirements of the certification examinations. Commitment to uphold and abide by the CTS Code of Ethics and Conduct is also a requirement for maintaining and renewing certification.

Renewal programs are revised and approved by the Renewal Committee. Renewal programs are approved for a period of two years.

The AVIXA Certification Committee does not endorse, accredit, approve, or sanction any particular course. The renewal units awarded are based upon documented guidelines and supporting materials provided during the application process.

NOTE: Applicants and stakeholders should download the most up-to-date free edition of the RU Provider Handbook that may include important policy and procedure updates by going to the AVIXA website at www.AVIXA.org. Date of this version is 08/27/2026. ©2026 AVIXA

PART ONE – Becoming a Renewal Unit Provider

Program Applications for Awarding of Renewal Units

In all cases, the Renewal Unit Provider Application should be received in the AVIXA Certification Office a minimum of 30 days prior to the start of the course. The application and documentation will be reviewed, and notification will be made within 10 business days of receipt of the application. For further questions contact the AVIXA Certification Office at certification@AVIXA.org or 703-273-7200.

Defining Manufacturer vs Non-manufacturer course content

Within the RU Provider Program, course length of time and corresponding RUs are identified based on the type of course content –manufacturer or non-manufacturer.

Manufacturer courses have content pertaining to specific company products, services, and/or are sales-focused.

Non-Manufacturer courses have content that is strictly educational and do not include product and/or service specific content. References to multiple products and services are allowed only when they are used as educational examples.

RUs are awarded based upon the following general guidelines:

For manufacturer course content, RUs are offered in half (0.5) units per 1-hour of contact time (excluding breaks); a minimum of 45-total minutes is required to receive RUs.

For non-manufacturer course content, RUs are offered in half (0.5) units per 30-minutes of contact time (excluding breaks); a minimum of 30-total minutes is required to receive RUs.

Renewal units are awarded and referenced to specific certification levels and the corresponding Exam Content Outline Domain area using the manufacturer or non-manufacturer guidelines in this handbook. (See Content Outlines in Appendix A for CTS, Appendix B for CTS-I, Appendix C for CTS-D).

Renewal units awarded for educational programs or activities are approved until the program changes or for a two-year period, whichever comes first.

RU Provider Logo

AVIXA's distinctive RU Provider logo, as seen on the cover of this handbook, may be used by approved Renewal Unit Providers in conjunction with the marketing or advertising of AVIXA RU approved programs or activities. Approved programs may contact certification@AVIXA.org for a digital copy of the logo and usage guidelines.

The following are suitability guidelines for awarding of renewal units in regards to various educational session formats. The Renewal Unit Provider Application found in the appendices of this handbook and online at www.AVIXA.org/ruproviderprogram must be completed and submitted online to the AVIXA Certification Office a minimum of 30 days prior to the first course offering.

PART TWO: Renewal Program Overview – Individual Renewal

A. How Renewal Units (RUs) Are Awarded

Courses and other renewal unit activities are reviewed and RUs granted at the discretion of the Certification and Renewal Committees based upon the requirements and guidelines contained within this Handbook.

All renewal unit programs applied for and awarded must be referenced to specific certification levels and the corresponding Exam Content Outline domain area (see Appendix A for CTS, Appendix B for CTS-I, Appendix C for CTS-D). Note: Tasks are included in the Exam Content Outlines simply to clarify the domain areas. (i.e., Course ABC is approved for 2 RUs at the CTS-I Domain A using manufacturer or non-manufacturer guidelines as noted in this handbook.)

Note: See specific listings of approved renewal units online at www.AVIXA.org/ruproviders.

For manufacturer course content, RUs are offered in half (0.5) units per 1-hour of contact time (excluding breaks); a minimum of 45-total minutes is required to receive RUs.

For non-manufacturer course content, RUs are offered in half (0.5) units per 30-minutes of contact time (excluding breaks); a minimum of 30-total minutes is required to receive RUs.

Policy Clarification Notes:

- a. A general CTS holder must have 30 RUs from general CTS, CTS-I, or CTS-D approved RU programs.
- b. A single specialty credential holder (CTS-I or CTS-D) must have a minimum of 50% (15) of their RUs from programs approved for RUs in the specialty credential that they hold, with the remainder of the required RUs coming either from general CTS approved program RUs or from other CTS specialty level RU approved programs.” Example- someone with a CTS and CTS-I must have 15 RUs from CTS-I approved programs, the remaining 15 RUs from either general CTS RU approved programs or from CTS-D approved programs.
- c. Multiple specialty credential holders (CTS-D and CTS-I) must have a minimum of 50% (15) of their RUs from programs approved for RUs in each specialty credential that they hold.” Example- someone with a CTS-I and CTS-D must have 15 RUs from CTS-I approved programs, the remaining 15 RUs from CTS-D approved programs.

B. Ways to Earn Renewal Units

- Non-Manufacturer programs may be approved for 1 RU per hour of class time (minimum 30 minutes of course time). The same course may only be used once every 24 months for the purpose of submitting renewal units.
- Manufacturer programs may be approved for 1 RU per two hours of class time (minimum 45 minutes of course time). The same course may be used only once every 24 months for the purpose of submitting renewal units.
- Approved college level courses of 3-4 semester hours may be awarded up to 10 RUs. Such courses must be obtained from an accredited institution, and courses must relate specifically to the work of the appropriate CTS certified technician level being renewed and must directly enhance the knowledge or skill level of the certificant for the certification being renewed.
- Instructors teaching for AVIXA or other programs approved for renewal units may receive up to 1 RU for each contact hour taught, and 1 RU for preparation time for every 2 hours of contact time taught. RUs awarded for teaching a course can be counted only once for the same presentation every 6 months. For example, if a program being taught is approved for a total of 3 RUs (2 RUs for the course contact hours and 1 RU for the preparation) and is presented at three regional meetings during the same 6-month period, the presenter may only count 3 RUs toward renewal in that 6-month period.
- Individuals who actively serve as AVIXA volunteers in a capacity that contributes to further development of the AVIXA Certification Committee certification program may claim up to a maximum of 3 RUs per year for each volunteer capacity actively served in. Examples of recognized certification program support activities include active participation as a subject matter expert, serving on a certification related committee, industry standards committee, AVIXA Board or committee, or similar activities. Certificants who submit RUs under this category are subject to verification of active participation through AVIXA records. The individual must document their participation and identify the areas in which they have made a significant contribution to the certification program.
- Individuals who write an article or white paper related to an area addressed in one of the CTS Exam Content Outlines may be awarded 2 RUs if the article or white paper is published in an AV trade media or industry related technical book. RUs from articles or white papers are limited to three per year, for a total of 6 RUs per 12 months. Articles or white papers must be written and submitted for review within the 3-year certification period.
- Reading an industry related book that has been previously submitted and pre-approved for RUs which includes successful completion of an appropriate assessment tool such as a quiz (the link to the sponsoring organization or author will be listed on the approved Renewal Units page on the www.AVIXA.org/ruproviders website). Renewal Units awarded will depend upon the size/time requirements related to the particular book, but will not exceed 2 RUs per book.

[COMPANY NAME] Named AVIXA Certified Technology Specialist (CTS) Renewal Unit Provider

DATELINE — [COMPANY NAME] is pleased to announce that the company has been named an official AVIXA Certified Technology Specialist™ (CTS®) Renewal Unit (RU) Provider. This will allow the more than 13,000 professionals around the world holding AVIXA's CTS credential to earn renewal units towards their certification by completing certain [COMPANY NAME] education programs.

[DETAILS ABOUT COMPANY'S EDUCATION PROGRAM]

For more than 30 years, AVIXA has administered the CTS program, which is recognized as the leading AV professional credential. There are three CTS credentials: general (CTS), design (CTS-D), and installation (CTS-I).

To obtain approval, RU programs must feature experienced instructors with clear evidence of qualifications in the session topic. Each class must contain at least one relevant learning objective or industry-related purpose; relate to a specific exam topic area and exam level and conclude with an assessment tool to demonstrate participants have grasped the objectives. These criteria are vigorously reviewed by AVIXA's Certification Renewal Unit Committee.

About the Certified Technology Specialist Credential

AVIXA's Certified Technology Specialist, Certified Technology Specialist – Design and Certified Technology Specialist – Installation are the only audiovisual certification programs accredited by the International Organization for Standardization's (ISO) United States representative, the ANSI National Accreditation (ANAB). Accepted by the U.S. Veterans Administration for reimbursement under the Montgomery G.I. Bill, AVIXA certification programs are designed to establish and maintain widespread credibility for the audiovisual industry and the professionals who perform the work. AVIXA's CTS, CTS-D, and CTS-I renew their credential every three years through continuing education. Each renewal candidate is required to attain 30 renewal units (RUs). Appendix E: Application FAQ

Please review commonly asked questions regarding the RU Provider application process to help ensure your application is processed promptly.

How do I submit my application for review?

As of Fall 2018, all RU Provider applications must be submitted electronically using our online form found here. We no longer accept paper applications.

How will I know that my course has been approved?

The individual who submitted the application on behalf of their organization will be notified via email if the course has been approved. Providers may also check approval status at any time through the RU Provider Portal, which can be accessed through their individual dashboard.

How long is my course approved for?

All approved courses are valid for two years. There are no limits on how often the course may be held during this two-year period

How do I renew my course?

Courses eligible for renewal must go through the online application process again. Providers must submit the application electronically using our online form found at www.AVIXA.org/ruproviderprogram. The RU provider fee is charged per course application, see the RU Provider Fee Schedule.

How do I know my course is about to expire?

Providers may reference either their approval notice email or their RU Provider Portal dashboard for the expiration date of their course. Additionally, the AVIXA Certification office will send a 30-day renewal reminder email to the listed contact on the application.

How do I update the point-of-contact to receive communications from AVIXA about the RU Provider program?

NOTE: Applicants and stakeholders should download the most up-to-date free edition of the RU Provider Handbook that may include important policy and procedure updates by going to the AVIXA website at www.AVIXA.org. Date of this version is 08/27/2026. ©2026 AVIXA

A course that is strictly educational in content is considered non-manufacturer. The course would cover educational concepts, theories, industry trends, and standard practices within the field.

A manufacturer course is product-specific. The course would cover specific products or services that are proprietary to their organization. Manufacturer courses are often sales-focused and frequently use product demonstrations.

My class only talks about a product for less than 15 percent of instruction time, can it be considered non-manufacturer?

Regardless of the amount of time the product or service is discussed, it will be considered manufacturer training.

How do I select the right domain and task for my application?

You should select the domain and task that is appropriate for the content of your course. We strongly recommend that whoever developed the course to complete the RU Provider application, as they will be most familiar with the content.

Additionally, your domain and task selection should be aligned with what is listed in the application and should align with your learning objectives. The domains and tasks need to support your content, and therefore you should list relevant descriptions and learning objectives. Carefully review and be selective, we recommend choosing the top 3 domains and tasks for each applicable designation you are applying towards.

The exam content outline is very broad, how do I know I am selecting the right domain and task?

The exam content outline provides a high-level overview of relevant content areas for each exam. Please review the job-task-analysis (JTA) documents for more information on the knowledge, skills, and abilities required for each domain and task. The JTA documents can be found at www.AVIXA.org/resources.

Why was my course not approved and sent back to me for amendment?

There could be several reasons why your course was not approved and requires amendment. Most often, either the course description or learning objectives are too vague and do not support the domain and task listed on the application. Please ensure that your application clearly demonstrates that the course content validates the knowledge needed to maintain the industry credential.
